

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

WORSHIP

Time: 5-20 minutes

I'm so happy you're here with us! We're going to begin our time today by worshipping God. We have so many reasons to praise God, and the best part is that we don't have to wait! God is here, with us! We can't see him or hear him or touch him, but God promises us that whenever we gather to worship him, he will be there. And we know that God always keeps his promises.

God, just being in your presence makes our hearts happy and joyful. Thank you that when we needed a Savior, you promised to send Jesus. And thank you for keeping your promise, just like you always do. We love you and we worship you, God!

In Jesus name, amen.

(Play "Unto Us" on a CD player, computer or other audio device. Lead the kids in singing and model a worshipful heart for them. You may want to expand this time by adding several songs, especially in a children's worship setting. If you have multiple songs, be sure to highlight the theme song to draw their attention to the words.)

STORY

Time: 15 minutes

Prepare in Advance:

Print or write out "Isaiah's Message" divided into five sections as shown below, including the number for each section. You may even seal them in a cool envelope or package to make it feel even more special. Before any organized activities start, speak to five children individually and tell them you have a special message for them to carry. Tell them to hang on to the paper until later in the lesson when you'll tell them what to do with it.

Isaiah's Message:

1. The people
2. Who were walking
3. In darkness
4. Have seen
5. A great light.

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Display Isaiah 9:6.

Take a look at our theme verse for this week. This was a part of the song we sang earlier. Do you remember it?

(Read aloud or, if working with older kids, ask for a child to volunteer to read the verse aloud.)

Younger Kids: “For to us a child is born, to us a son is given.” – Isaiah 9:6

Older Kids: “For to us a child is born, to us a son is given, and the government will be on his shoulders. And he will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.” – Isaiah 9:6

Now let’s all read it together. Say it with me! (Lead the children in repeating the verse. For younger children, break the verse up into smaller chunks and have them repeat after you.)

Great job! Now I’m going to say the verse and you fill in the blanks:

For to us a (child) is born, to us a (son) is given.

Older Kids: And the (government) will be on his (shoulders). And he will be called (Wonderful Counselor), Mighty God, (Everlasting Father), Prince of (Peace).

Hmm...a child? A son? A Wonderful Counselor? A Prince of Peace? Who in the world could we be talking about? (Allow the kids to respond, “Jesus!”)

That’s right! Our theme verse today is a promise that God made many years before Jesus was born, and it’s a promise he kept! In fact, that leads us to the Big Idea for this week:

Display the BIG IDEA.

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

BIG IDEA

Younger Kids: God promised to send Jesus.

Older Kids: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Have you ever carried a message for someone? Maybe a person called your home looking for your dad, but your dad wasn't there, so you had to take a message for him. Or maybe your mom gave you a message for your teacher. Or maybe you and your older brother broke your mom's favorite lamp but your brother made you tell your mom even though he did it!

It's not always fun to be the one with the message.

What if God gave you a message to carry? Can you imagine? You'd probably think that was pretty cool, and I'm sure you'd listen carefully to every word to make sure that you delivered the message correctly.

In the Old Testament, God's message carriers were called prophets. But it wasn't always fun to be God's prophet. Sometimes God's prophets had to tell his people things they didn't want to hear: they were making bad choices, they were worshipping idols, and that made God sad.

Year after year, God's prophets kept telling the people, "Don't worship idols. Worship God! Don't make bad choices. Make good choices!" Most of the time God's people didn't even listen, and sometimes they even hurt his prophets. Once in a while the people repented – that means that they said they were sorry, asked for forgiveness, and began to live in a way that pleased God – but that never lasted for very long. A few years later and they would be back to the same terrible choices.

One of God's prophets was a man named Isaiah, and one day Isaiah had a very personal encounter with God. Isaiah walked into the temple and he actually saw God seated on a magnificent throne. Smoke was all around, and creatures with six wings called seraphim were singing praises to God.

Now, let me ask you a question: what would you do if you walked into church and saw God on a throne surrounded by crazy looking creatures with six wings? (Allow the kids to respond.)

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Well Isaiah did something you might not expect. He was sad! You see, when Isaiah saw God he suddenly remembered all the bad choices that he had made and all the bad choices that his people had made. And he was worried. Was God here to punish him? Would God finally say, “Enough is enough! You keep making bad choices, so I’m through with you!”

Nope. That’s not the kind of God he is. God never stops loving us, no matter what choices we make, and he was so determined to save us from our bad choices and bring us back into his family that he was about to do something incredible!

But first, he needed someone to carry his message.

Now you might think that Isaiah would love to carry God’s message, but do you remember what we just said about God’s prophets? Sometimes they had to say hard things to God’s people, things God’s people didn’t want to hear. It took a lot of courage to be God’s prophet.

God said to Isaiah, “I need someone to carry my message. Who will go for me?”

What do you think Isaiah said? Raise your hand if you think Isaiah said, “No way, God! Those people might hurt me if I carry your message!” (Allow the kids to respond.) Okay, how many people think Isaiah said, “I’ll do it, God. I’ll carry your message.” (Allow the kids to respond.)

Let’s find out what Isaiah said:

Display Isaiah 6:8.

“Isaiah said, ‘Here I am. Send me.’” – Isaiah 6:8

Sounds like Isaiah made the right choice! And God did give Isaiah a message for his people. It was a very special message. Before today’s lesson I gave five of you a piece of Isaiah’s message. (Have the children with the five parts of Isaiah’s message stand and read their portion of the message, beginning with number one and going to number five.)

Younger Variation: Have the children come forward and bring their messages to you one at a time. Read each part of the message individually before putting it all together.)

Display Isaiah 9:2.

“The people walking in darkness have seen a great light.” – Isaiah 9:2

Hmm. What did Isaiah’s message mean? That’s another thing about being God’s prophet: sometimes God speaks in a way that might be hard to understand. But I think we can figure out this mystery.

Let’s think about the first part, “The people walking in darkness.” Walking in darkness sounds like a terrible idea! How would you see where you’re going? You might trip and fall. You might run into a wall! If you were walking around in the darkness without a light, I would say you might have made a foolish choice.

That reminds me of God’s people in the Old Testament. They were a/ways making foolish choices. Instead of doing what God told them to do, they were always running off and worshipping other gods. You know, that also reminds me of, well, us. We don’t always do what God wants us to do. We make foolish choices that have bad consequences, just like people walking in the darkness with no light. Sounds like maybe the first part of Isaiah’s message was talking about...us!

What about the second part, “Have seen a great light”? Well, if you were walking in darkness and you suddenly saw a great light, what would you do? (Allow the kids to respond.) You would run toward it just as fast as you could! Finally, a way out of the darkness!

Hmm. Who makes a way for us to get out of the darkness? Who can save us from the bad choices we make? Let’s look at our theme verse for one final clue:

Display Isaiah 9:6.

“For to us a child is born, to us a son is given.” – Isaiah 9:6

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Wait a second! I think I know the answer. Who is that verse talking about? (Allow the kids to respond, "Jesus!") That's right! It's talking about Jesus. And that reminds me of something that Jesus said. Take a look:

Display John 8:12.

"When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, 'I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.'" - John 8:12

If the "people walking in darkness" is us, that means that the great light must be...? (Allow the kids to respond, "Jesus!")

You got it! Mystery solved! Jesus shows us the way to God, just like a light can show us the way out of the darkness. God knew that we could never make enough good choices on our own. We keep making the same foolish choices and getting ourselves lost in the darkness. He knew we needed a light to show us the way back to God, so he promised to send Jesus.

For Older Kids Only:

But Isaiah lived hundreds of years before Jesus was born. Back then, the people didn't know who Jesus was, or even what his name would be. So they had another name for this person God had promised to send. They called him the Messiah, which means "anointed one." Anointing was a way of showing that someone had been chosen by God for a special purpose. Jesus is the Messiah, the one God chose for this special purpose, to save us and to lead us out of the darkness.

God gave Isaiah a special message for his people. Hundreds of years before Jesus was born, God made a promise: "You won't walk in darkness forever. I'm going to send my son, Jesus. He will be like a light. He will show you the way back to me." And if there's one thing we know about God, we know that he will always keep his promises.

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

PRAYER

Time: 2 minutes

Let's bow our heads and close our eyes for a time of prayer. Think about Jesus. Aren't you grateful that God sent Jesus to show us the way out of the darkness? Let's tell God how grateful we are. Pray this silently in your head, "God, thank you that you loved me so much you sent Jesus to save me."
(Leave a moment of silence for kids to pray.)

God, sometimes our foolish choices lead to bad consequences, kinda like walking in the dark with no light. Thank you that you promised you wouldn't leave us in the darkness. Thank you that you promised to send us a light that would show us the way back to you. Thank you that you promised to send Jesus, and that you kept your promise.

In Jesus' name, amen.

MEMORY VERSE ACTIVITY

Time: 7-10 minutes

For Younger Children

Directions:

Break down the memory verse down into short phrases (suggestion below). Select ten volunteers, or one for each phrase in the verse. Ask your volunteers to come up to the front of the room. Give each volunteer a word or phrase from the memory verse. Let the group assign an action to each child that corresponds with the word or phrase they have been assigned. Once each person has their assigned action, go down the line, saying the verse together with each child acting out their portion. Do this several times until the children know the verse. Then have the entire group say the verse while each child does all of the actions. Children love to volunteer, so feel free to switch out volunteers and let multiple children participate.

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Examples:

Phrase	Action
For	Hold out 4 fingers
Unto us	Stretch arms out straight, then draw them back to your chest in a grabbing motion
A child	Have children point to themselves
Is born	Cradle your arms like holding a child
To us	Same as “unto us”
A son	Act like you’re putting on a baseball hat
Is given	Opposite motion of “unto us” - place palms up and together and push outward
Isaiah	Place palms together and then open like a book
9	Hold up 9 fingers
6	Draw a 6 in the air

For Older Children

Supplies:

- Index cards

Prepare in Advance:

Divide the verse into phrases (suggested below) and write each phrase on an index card. On a second set of cards, create a simple picture for each phrase.

Suggested Phrases:

1. For to us
2. A child is born
3. To us a son is given
4. And the government
5. Will be on his shoulders.
6. And he will be called
7. Wonderful Counselor
8. Mighty God
9. Everlasting Father
10. Prince of Peace.

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Directions:

Scatter the picture cards around the room. Give each child a card with a phrase from the memory verse. (If you have more children than cards, assign a single card to multiple children.) Have the children find the picture that matches their phrase. Then put the verse in order and have the children say it several times. Take the words away leaving only the pictures and have the children say the verse.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

For Younger Children

Carry a Message

Time: 10-15 minutes

Directions:

As a group, decide on a message from the story that you would like to share with your church family (for instance, “God promised to send Jesus,” “Jesus is God’s son,” “Jesus is coming,” etc.). Go on a field trip around the church finding people to hear your message. This may be accomplished easier in small groups with one adult assigned to 8-10 children. As you go around the church, find greeters, ushers, or anyone in the halls and share your message with them. (Be sure not to interrupt other groups that are in Bible study, though!) Afterward, talk with the children about how they carried the message to their church just like Isaiah the prophet!

For Younger and Older Children

Secret Messages

Time: 7-10 minutes

Supplies:

- White paper
- White crayons
- Watercolors and brushes

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Directions:

Using white crayons on white paper, have the children write secret messages about Christmas to each other. (Examples: “For to us a child is born,” “Jesus is the Messiah,” “Jesus is the Prince of Peace,” etc.) Have each child pass the message they wrote to another child. Using watercolors and paintbrushes, paint over each message to find out what it says. Younger Variation: Have teachers or volunteers write or draw the message and let the children paint to discover what it is.

Talk about how God sent his message to his people. How does God send his message to us today?

Telephone

Time: 10 minutes

Directions:

Have the children sit or stand in a line of about 10-12 children. Use multiple lines if necessary. Remind the children that God gave Isaiah an important message to tell his people.

Have an adult whisper a sentence into the first child’s ear. Then have each child whisper the secret to the next child in the line. Have the last child at the end of the line say the sentence out loud to see if the message was passed correctly. Repeat with several different sentences. If you have multiple groups, make sure they don’t say the sentence out loud until everyone is done.

Sample Sentences:

- God promised to send Jesus.
- For unto us a child is born.
- Jesus is the promised Messiah.
- God told Isaiah to carry a message.

Sharing the Message

Time: 10-15 minutes

Supplies:

- Card stock
- Old Christmas cards, glue, scissors, markers, and other items to decorate the card stock
- String (for option 2)

Theme Verse: Isaiah 9:6

Theme Song: Unto Us

Story: Isaiah the Prophet (Isaiah 6:1-8, 9:2-7)

Big Idea: Jesus is the promised Messiah.

Directions:

As a group, talk about the message that Isaiah delivered to the people. It was a very important message, because God wants everyone to know about Jesus. That's why he gave his message to Isaiah, and now he has given us the same message.

Option 1: Using the card stock, help children create an invitation to share with others for a Christmas event at your church. Let them decorate it and take it home to deliver it.

Option 2: Have the children draw a picture of Isaiah's message (for instance, Jesus in the manger) and write the Big Idea from today's lesson. (Teachers can assist younger children by writing the Big Idea for them.) Help each child roll up the drawing and tie a string around it. Have the children take this home and encourage them to share their message with their friends and family, just like Isaiah did.
